

Wall James Chappell raise money for Children in Need

Staff at a Stourbridge firm of Solicitors Wall James Chappell donned their aprons for the second year running for their very own "bake off" to raise money for Children in Need.

Competition was fierce as organiser, Carol Kibbler`s very own speciality white and dark chocolate cheesecake was pitted against Helen Cockling`s (Wife of Partner, John Cockling) infamous chocolate sponge. Newcomers, Scott Roberts also entered five cakes including a chocolate sprinkle cake, sultana cake and chocolate sponge and Rebecca Clark entered her very own chocolate "delight". Other staff members baked a variety of cupcakes, brownies and apple cake to mention but a few. Success was measured by whose cakes sold first. Scott`s chocolate sprinkle cake ran out as eventual winner narrowly defeating Carol Kibbler`s cheesecake.

Carol Kibbler said that "after the success of the Great British Bake Off we decided to once again hold our own office "bake off". The response from Staff was overwhelming. The different cakes were sold to other members of Staff and clients of the Firm which helped raise over £150."

The firm will also be holding a mufty day on Friday 15th November 2013 to raise more money for Children in Need.
