

Litigator joins Wall James Chappell solicitors

Leading Stourbridge law firm Wall James Chappell has appointed a new solicitor to strengthen its litigation and dispute resolution team.

David Ellis joins the firm as a litigation solicitor and will work alongside the firm's litigation consultants Roger Bishop and Simon Beddow.

David graduated from Southampton University and attended the College of Law. He has over 16 years' experience as a practising solicitor, and has gained a wealth of experience dealing with both civil litigation and employment matters over that period.

David said "I am delighted to be joining the litigation team at Wall James Chappell and I look forward to providing clients with a first-rate service".

Wall James Chappell is a full service firm of solicitors which can trace its origins back to 1830. The firm provides a comprehensive legal service to business and private clients both locally and across the UK.
